The following Ephemeris Explained.

IN this Ephemeris or Almanack, you will find two Pages for every Month in the Year, viz. A Right and a Left-hand Page, which exhibits to your Eye, the Days of the Month, and Week; also Saints Days, Planetary Motions and Aspects, change of Air; the several Lunations, Moon's Rising, Full Sea at London-Bridg, Astrological Predictions. All which are plainly discover'd in their several Columns, by explaining the said two Pages, viz.

The Left-hand Page explained.

The Left-hand Page contains not less than thirteen Columns or Spaces. The First whereof contains the Days of the Month. The Second, the Days of the Week. The Third, the several Festivals and Fasts of the Year, whether fixed or movable, as used by the Church of England. The Fourth, the Sun's place in the Zodiack, in Degrees and Minutes. The Fifth, the place of Saturn in whole Degrees. The Sixth, the place of Jupiter. The Seventh, Mars his place. The Eighth, the place of Venus. The Ninth, the place of Mercury. The Tenth, the place of the Moon in Degrees and Minutes. The Eleventh, the place of the Dragon's-Head; whereunto the Dragon's-Tail is always opposite. The Twelfth, the Mutation of the Air, Mutual Aspects of the Planets, time of the Eclipses, &c. The Thirteenth, the Moon's Age, and her several Shapes which she appears in, at her Change, Full, and Quarters.

At the top of this Page are several Poetical Strains or Passages, relating to the Planets Alternate Motions, Significations, and Effects, as their several Influences respect the Inhabitants of this Terrene Globe.

The Right-hand Page consists of eight Columns. In the First whereof you have the Days of the Month, and the Character of the Sun in Red, whereby to express the Sunday throughout the whole Year. The Six following Columns declare the time of the Moon's Aspects to the ☉ Sun, ♄ Saturn, ♃ Jupiter, ♂ Mars, ♀ Venus, ☿ Mercury. The Eighth Column contains copious, Prædictious, Astrological, as well of Health and Sicknes, Scarcity or Plenty, Peace or Disturbance, &c. as of publick, general Casualties, or Accidents, probably to happen, not only in our own, but other Kingdoms or Countries also.

At the top of this Page you have the time of each Lunation, viz. the New and Full Moons, and the Quarters, and also the Rising of the Moon to every fifth day, in Hours and Minutes, the Letters A. and M. telling you whether it be in the Afternoon or Morning. Unto which in the Column next adjoyning, you have the time of Full Sea at London-Bridge, for every fifth day likewise.

More variety I could willingly have afforded my Reader, but my room would not admit thereof, perhaps I may enlarge my Limits against another Year. In the mean time pray accept of this. Read, Profit—.

Astrological Observations.

This famous Year of 1683, is usher'd in with two famous Prodigies, viz. A great Solar Eclipse, and a great Conjunction of the two Superiour Planets, Saturn and Jupiter. The Holy Scriptures assure us, that before the great and terrible day of the Lord, [that is, great mundane Changes] come, the Sun shall be turn'd into Darkneß, &c. Astrologers tell us, particularly Morinus, that the Conjunctions of Saturn and Jupiter are threefold, viz. Great, Mean, and Little. And that the great Conjunctions ever generate great and famous Actions, Alterations, &c. and the others according to their Natures. This is a great Conjunction; not only in regard it is in a Regal Sign, such as Leo is; but because it is thrice repeated in that Regal Sign; and therefore will be attended with great and stupendious Effects. Such was the Conjunction before the Flood, and that also before Charles the Great, &c. as that Learned and Loyal Divine, Mr. John Buttler, hath with great pains discovered. But I am too general. Some great Alterations near at hand, as well in the Church as Courts of Princes. The Sons of the Lyon advance; the Creatures of the Crab crawl backward. Some fixed Stars prove erratick, and some Wanderers become fixed.

February hath XXVIII Days.

Here Mayors meets fly Hermes at a Treat,
 And close Discourse of many a Pious Cheat
 They gravely hold: How Titan to disturb,
 And his great Counsellours destroy, or curb.
 But trusty Mayors in his Loyal Zeal
 To Royal Paan doth the Plot reveal.

Astrological Observations.

Majora Canamus.

Noble Souls! You that have been long toss'd upon the Waves of Trouble, &c. and have born up bravely against the Rage and Madness of the Multitude, in these dangerous Plotting Times, and still ad-her'd to your Allegiance and Duty: take Courage, I say, the time is coming wherein your Constancy, Faith and Services, will be both valued and rewarded. The Influences of the last Month's Configurations appear in this. And Persons and Places under ♀ and ☿ will feel the Effects. The Wind never sits always in one manner, which Maxime ought to teach us moderation towards our Equal, and Obe- dience towards our Superiours. Some great Warrior or famous General, or Com- mauder, now meets an unexpected Advancement, and in a little time, if not carefully avoided, loses it again [♂ is in △ of ☉ from ☿ his Detriment] Sundry secret Conspiracies are brought to light, and Actors and Promoters of them rewarded according to their Merit.

Fiat Justitia, ruat cælum.

March hath XXXI Days.

Stout Mars, the Souldier; subtile Mercury,
The Scribe and Merchant ever signify:

But both run backward now, which intimates
Them subject to the stroke of Cross-grain'd Fates.

But Sol, bright Jove, and Saturn's glorious Trias,
With Embassies, make Britain's Monarch shine.

The commanding Trines of Saturn and Jupiter in Leo, to the Sun in Aries his Exaltation, adds Splendor to the wise Monarch, and also the ancient Monarchy of England; and Retrogrades and confounds the most crafty Counsels and Machinations of their greatest Enemies against them. Many eminent Honours and Preferments are preparing for some unthought of, but very deserving Patriots, whose Parts do render them greatly worthy of them. Let such as are signified by the Sun and Jupiter, ever shine in the Eyes of Monarchs, Kings, and Princes, &c Then shall their Edicts be obey'd, not disputed; their Honour and Grandeur promoted, not impair'd or neglected. Merchants near this time meet sundry Losses, as well by Pirates as Shipwrack, &c — Great and tragical Actions wellward, now arrives at our Ears; but England loseth nothing thereby. A great Lady near these times horribly libell'd, or lampoon'd. Doth she deserve it? — No! but scandals are a little in fashion: The vermin Mercu-ries live by it.

April hath XXX Days.

Chronus and Jove having been long confin'd,
Shake off their Shackles; prove their Faylor kind;
But rebel-Mars confronts the Glorious Sun,
And Hermes two, before the Month be done.

Thus treacherous Mates their Plots do still increase,
To blot the Beauty of Fair Albion's Peace

Astrological Observations

Many Complaints in this Month vexing the Ears of Authority, but all of them not just. The Actions of sundry Officers, &c. taxed, it may be maliciously. But have a care, Hermes, a day of Account will come, and thy crafty Contrivances will be discover'd to thy shame. Some Astrologers tell us, That upon such Configurations as now happen, there follows — Multa Belia, multa Tristitia, & pluvia Superflua. And so there will now, in Flanders, Holland, some parts Germany, &c. where Armies are,— A fear of Troubles in the West-Indies: God grant no Animosities, or secret Grudges among the Grandees of those Noble Countries —. Much robbing and predating upon the High-way, [♂ and ♀ are in ♂] and a Discovery of sundry Clippers and Coiners, who are obnoxious to Justice for their misdoings. Many wicked and scandalous Pamphlets also spawn'd near this time. When the corrupted and vicious parts, either of Families, Cities, or Nations, are removed, they ever after continue the more sound and healthful.

May hath XXXI Days.

*Venus and Mars oppose from active Signs, Chronos and Jove unite, whom Venus Trines;
Mars trines the Sun and Hermes, who transfer Their nobler Beams to Saturn, Jupiter.*

Neglected Princes find their Foes to fail ;
And Rebel-Plotters-Hearts with Fear do quail.

In this Month of May (which hath bin, and shall be for ever honoured by the Birth of our Gracious Sovereign) we find celebrated the Third great Conjunction of Saturn and Jupiter in Leo. Can such Conjunctions betoken any thing of Honour, Peace, and Tranquility? Yes sure; * when they happen in mild and gentle parts of Heaven. The Synod rises with Syrinx; and the Honour and Awe of Governours and Government riseth therewith—. Good People make good Princes. But (as the Historian says) when People run directly to oppose the Authority of their Sovereign, and assume Rebellion and Arrogance for Obedience, resisting his fairest Motions, and most profitable Commandments—. If the King be martial, in a short time they are beaten and brought under—. If he be politick, prudent and fore-seeing, in a longer time, (as wild Deer) they are surpriz'd, and either brought back to their first Order and Condition, or thrall'd to greater miseries—. Consider this, Oh ye willful and obstinate People, that have made it your business, not only to disturb, but provoke the best of Princes, and most excellent of Governments.

June hath XXX Days.

Chronos in Consultation with bright Jove,
Darts angry Atoms at the Queen of Love;
 But she being in her Castle strongly plac'd,
 (And Hermes Counsel having first embrac'd)
 Return their shafts with Fury. Whence we know What Active Ladies (when intens'd) can do.

The Envious Saturn, and Auspicious Jupiter, seporate very slowly: and both of them are within the limits of Venus Square, and Mars's dexter Sextile.
 Souldiers, and Men of Action advance in Honour and Preferment, but Amorous Ladies, now too apt to take blind Cupids-pleasing impressions, betray themselves unto many Flatteries and Treacheries, &c.— God keep them from the Melancholly Effects of a Tropical-Midsummer-Moon.— If the Stars deceive me not, England, and her most merciful Soveragin are in a very happy and prosperous condition; Admired and Courted by Forrign Kingdoms and Countries, their Agents, or Ambassadors.—
 A seeming Religious party (heretofore too apt to be mutinous) begin to see their folly, and to understand the blessings which they enjoy under a Peaceable Prince. And sundry great Ones prudent-ly begin to consider, that Obstinate and Error is not the way to Establish their Families in quiet, and seem willing to practice Duty and Obedience, for regaining bright Phœbus favour. A wise man never defers his repentance too long.

Astrological Observations.

Did not the Position of Jupiter, cum Corde Leonis, in an amicable and salutiferous aspect of friendly Venus prevent, I should greatly fear some Pestilential distemper now, or near this time to prevail among us: For the Hostile Quadrante of ☉ and ♂ from ♋ and ♌ is of a pestiferous and venifique signification. It also denotes, Multa bella in parte Orientali.— But what have we in England either to fear or care about, what is done in Spain, Italy, France or Germany? &c. God keep us from the Poyson of Irreligion, Schism, and Atheism, and I'll fear no devouring Plague in this Year.— A sort of people pretending Religion will be spawning Mischiefs, tho they pay for it. Their Pseudo pious-pretences have cozen'd us once already; shall we be any more deluded? No, the burnt Child dreads the Fire. And Men bred up in Rebellion and Schism, having imbibed ill Principles against the Government with their Mother's milk, do make it matter of Conscience to continue in their darling Errors, Quo semel imbuta recens, &c.— The Cat will be a Cat still; and it behoves Authority to have a care of her Claws.

August hath XXXI Days

Jove, Phœbus, Chronus joyning, do prepare
 Some winds, Rain, Thunder, for to purge the Air;
 With sudden Heats, as suddenly allay'd:
 While Mars and Hermes drive the Padding-Trade.
Chronus and Mavors quarrel; yet agree,
 To wound great Females by base Treachery.

We are arriv'd at the delightful Month of August, wherein the Days play their parts to purpose. God grant a happy Harvest-time; but I fear very unseasonable Weather, preventing the industrious Farmers or Husbandman's expectations. — Great and dismal things are approaching in some Countries Eastward. — Capitales injuries, Malorum licentiam, & magnificus utri mortem. Imprisonments, Captivities, sundry Injuries and Outrages committed, as it were with a License; the Death also of some eminent Hero South-East from England is to be feared. Multa Egritudine, Mors Multum, &c. divers grievous diseases now regnant, hard to be cured; Mars in Scorpio keeps the causes of them occult and secret; A mortality of many women seems to be at hand, possibly in Childbirth, or the like. — The Sword and Plague are devourers in earnest, wherever they prevail; And sundry Nations round about us will be sad objects of our Pity and Compassion. — Oh! un-bless'd England! bless a good God, and a gracious King, for thy Peace and Quiet.

Saturn near sated with the Lyon's Charms,
 Prepares t' arrive at th' Amorous Virgin's Arms,
 Yet goes not far therein, but retrograde:
 Resolves once more the Lyon to invade:
 That fit once pass'd, th' Rebellious spleen abates:
 And Perjured-Plotters every good man hates.

Sadly we may remember, that it was immediately upon a Cardinal violent Quadrature of Mars and Jupiter, the late most horrid, and ever-to-be-execrated Popish-PLOT, with us in England first brake forth. The same Planets are in Quadrature now again, but (God be thanked) from different parts of Heaven.— But tho we need not dread any more such wretched Plots now; yet may we justly expect in some Neighbour Countries.— Multæ guerræ, & multæ interfectiones hominum. — Also, Combustiones, Infortunia, Constrictiones, Mendacia, terribiles rumores, &c. chiefly in those parts of Europe subject to ♀ and ♀. The Drum and Trumpet will be heard on purpose, exciting to Wars and Slaughters of Men in the South-East parts: divers other misfortunes to befall mankind, Infortunes and several Feigned, Scandalous, Lying Rumors and Reports, spread on purpose to Amuse the World. Sundry Conflagrations relating to the Bycorporeal Quadrangle. Many Notable Duels; ♂ is with Cor. III and several Noble-men, or Gentlemen, possibly therein, in vindication of their Honour.

October hath XXXI Days.

Seven friendly Planetary Raies produce
 Peace, to poor Shrubs, and 'mong Tall Cedars, True
 The Gown's prefer'd; New Legal Honours made:
 And Mars content to Sheath his Killing-Blade.
 But Hermes Square to Chronus, Multiplies
 A Crowd of Scandals, back'd with Forgeries.

People wearied with the Horror and dismal Effects of Confusion, begin to think well of Order, and to value a happy and quiet Government, and prefer Obedience to Sacrifice. The truly honest own Astraea Blind, and to know neither whig nor Tory. And yet, blind as she is, can discover the Fraud of those whose Justice or Conscience is Nine-days-old, and pretends to pick holes in that most honest and equal Proverb, which assures us for a squared Truth, that—That which is Sawce for a Goose, is also Sawce for a Gander.— Can any man of sence believe, that Persons under a suspicious character, ought to be esteem'd good Witnesses against one sort of Men, and down-right Perjur'd wretches against another? this is such a kind of Transubstantiation that's fit only for Pluto to defend. — What Glorious Hero is supported by ☉ ad trinum ♀ and they radically in great reception? I say, if any such truly-worthy-Native have any relation to these Northern parts, and to the illustrious Aspects of this Month, He shines Splendidly, advancing in Honours, and in the Favour of his Sovereign, and sees his Enemies downfal.

*Hermes and Chronus Square doth still prevail ;

'Till th' wisdom of the Nation stops the Press.

Astrological Observations.

November begins with stormy turbulent Air, and great thwartings, A- animosities, and Contradictions between Persons of great Quality, with more than common vexations and troubles (and thence sundry removes) in the Palaces of Princes, and Courts of Law and Equity, in great Cities, Corporations, &c. to happen in partibus Sepen- trionalibus, in these Northern parts of the World. Also many dangerous and sudden Shipwracks, now, or near this time portended: Rixam atque conten- tionem, atque bellum in partibus occiden- talibus; much quarrelling, brawling, and contention, and a fear of War, also, to break forth in the Western parts of the World. — God bless our Friends in the West Indies, viz. in Ja- maica, Barbadoes, New-England, Virgi- nia, &c. and secure them in quiet among themselves, and defend them from the Fury and Treachery of their voracious and active Neighbours. Ja- maica is under no Maleficque Influences of the Stars, but Barbadoes is nearly approaching some. — Plus a- vertat.

December hath XXXI Days

Yet, yet, more Standals are promoted; and Some Towring Statesmen seem amaz'd to stand
 At sudden alterations, 'near this time:
 Some great Ones to the Grave their Lives resign.
 The craftiest Machiavil that e're drew Breath,
 Or Plotted worst, Out-Plotted was by Death.

The Year draws to an End, and the Heavens seem to assure us that England is past the vertex of it's misfortunes.

Yet a little time, and the British Church and State shall Triumph again, and the Obedient Sons of both will not be reproached for their Conformity, as of late years they have, with the vile Characters of Church-Papists, Plotters, Tories, Tantivy-men, &c.

* So artificially wicked have our Jesuitical Dissenters been, that they have not spared to abuse His Majesties Authority, to affront the professed Friends of the Government.

Witness the Restless, and Reasonless Searches of a base Zealot, as also the brutish forwardness of some Malepart Constables, &c. who would go out of their Liberties to help onward the trade of Zealous Robbery! yet these were the Men that declared for Magna Charta! when it Truth they intended nothing less.

Whatever men do without just Cause they have some unjust Cause that prompts them to it; and the base Zealot burns not our Saviours Picture so much out of hatred to Popery, as for advancing his own Interest.

Sed tempora mutantur, &c.

What boot's it Monarch's to be Sryled Gods,

If they are subject to their Subjects Rods?

People are Arbitrary, not their Prince,

When Ignoramus quit's the high'st Offence.

Who Votes against his King on Earth, would (even)

Vote against God too! and Exile him Heaven.

Omnis potestas a Deo est.

*Machiavill's minded to Embrail a State,
 Their worships PLOT not, but ASSOCIATE.
 But, heark ye, Friends! soft words suspicion breeds,
 And Jacobs voice's oft back'd with Esau's deeds.
 This is th' Old CHARM, cheated us once before;
 And Murder'd th' best of Monarch's at his door.*

Permit aliquando Lex, morietur nunquam.

Astrological Observations on the Year of our Lord God 1683.

By J. Gadbury, Student in Physick and Astrology.

Quod felix faustumque sit.

THE incomparable Cardan tells us, That there are six great Causes of all Mundane alterations in Heaven; of which Astrologers are to take notice in their judgments.

1. An Ecliptical Conjunction of the Eighth and Ninth Spheres in the head of Aries; and that this excelleth all others Causes.

2. A Comet, which confounds both Sea and Land, and all other things which have a Being with them.

3. An Eclipse of either Luminary, which for the most part disturbs one certain and determinate kind of Creatures.

4. A Conjunction of the Lights, whereby all moist things are govern'd, As seas, crabs, fishes, diseases, fellow-limber, or the like.

5. A Conjunction of ♄ and ♀, in what place soever it falls, whereby Laws, Empires, and Regions are Govern'd.

6. The Conjunction of the Luminaries with the fixed Stars, whereof the Solar have dominion over the Winds, and the Lunar govern the Seas.

To consider the six, is a task too great for any Almanack to contain, and perhaps too Copious for any Mortal man to attempt at least with any suitable success befitting so illustrious and Tremendous Subjects.

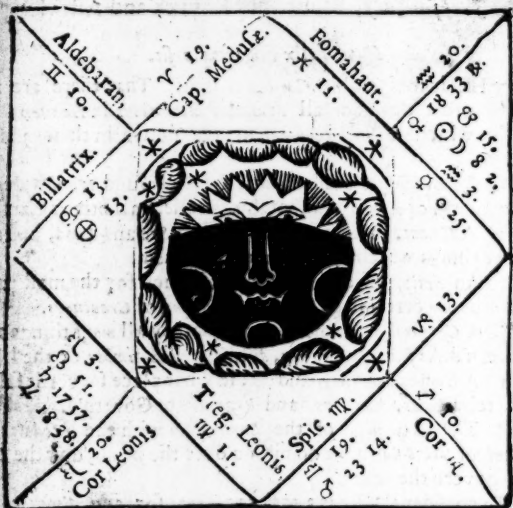

I shall therefore entertain my Readers with some short Observations upon two of them, viz. The Solar Eclipse on January the 17 day, this Year: And the Amazing Comet which appeared in November, December, &c. 1680. according to my promise made in my last years Ephemeris.

1. Of the Eclipse of the Sun, January 17. 1683.

Upon Wednesday the 17 of January 1683 at 2 hours 10 minutes P. M. or Afternoon, the Sun (that glorious Lamp of Heaven, the Heart, and Eye of the World) will be Eclipsed in eight degrees, and two minutes of the Coelestial sign Aquarius, and is celebrated in the eighth Angle of the Heavens, as may be seen by the following Scheme thereof.

It is the opinion of the best, and most learned in Astrology, that by Eclipses of the Luminaries, the God of Nature forewarns this sinful World of the great Revolutions of Empires, States and Kingdoms; of the Death of Emperors, Princes, Governors, and other Great and Noble men; of Heresies, Sects, Schisms, and Seditions in the Church, (England hath no need of such things), alterations of Laws and Customs; of great Drought, and Floodations of Rivers; of Wars, Famine, Plague and Pestilence: In a word, the viciissitud of all sublunary things.

And this particular Eclipse of the Sun is the forerunner of many and great Incumbrances and mischiefs to befall the People and Places concern'd therein; (of which Persons and Places under the Cœlestial Aquarius, must take a care to avoid.

Blessed

Blessed be God, England is not concern'd herein directly. And of strange and unexpected Events, and Alterations to ensue it; Eclipses enim Solis non potest fieri quin significetur aliquod magnum accidens secundum quantitatem ipsius Eclipsis.

Eclipses of the glorious Sun (As History abundantly testifies) have even been fatal to men of Honour and Glory, as Kings, Princes, and the Magnates of the World, also to Kingdoms; Empires and Republics. to all manner of Authorities, and Persons of great Places and Power; Setting one King, Prince, or State, one Great or Noble-man at variance with another. occasioning fraudulent Attempts, Tumults, Insurrections, and Wars, according to that of Virgil.

— — — *Quid cogitet humidus Auster,
Sol tibi signa dabit, Solem quis dicere fallum Audeat? Ille enim cecos instare Tumultus Sapienter monet, frandemque & aperte tumescere Bella.*

Which is ingeniously English'd by Mr. Ogilby, thus.

What Auster Plots the Sun doth signify;
And, who so bold to give the Sun the lye?
Clandestine Tumults he doth oft Forebode,
And open War from Secret Plots to grow.

This great Eclipse of the Sun is celebrated in the Airy Triplicity, in Aquarius, the great dignities of Saturn, the Terms, and Triplicity of Mercury, and Saturn being in Conjunction of Jupiter, Lord of the subsequent Angle, and both in Opposition to the Luminaries, will (according to Ptolemy) claim the sole Dominion of this Eclipse. Wherefore the Effects (the being evil naturally) must be of his Nature and Quality, viz. Evil and Destructive also.

In this Solar Defect, the Eighth House is Passive. And that Astrologically hath signification of Death in general; of the Wills, Testaments, Deeds, Legacies, Settlements of Persons deceased; Of Fears, Poisonings, Incantations, Womans Joyntures &c. In and about all which things much various Strife will arise; As he is an Enemy to Nature, and all Natural Existencies, so he bodes suitable miseries and misfortunes to befall mankind, viz. Not only a Famine, but a Plague also; he is in ♄. A sign representing the Heart, as well of Kingdoms, Countries, &c. as Persons. As he is in the Dignities of the Sun in Conjunction of ♄ and in 8 of ♀, and both the Lights, he bodes great Miseries, Death, Detriment and Dis honour to the most Illustrious Persons of both Sexes; Chiefly, such as are concerned in the fixed Quaarangle, viz. Aquarius (the Eclipsed sign) Taurus, Leo, and Scorpio.

The Superior Planets are all Active in this defect; and therefore the most eminent of Persons will be Passive under its Influences; and of them, the most elderly. And not only elderly men, but things also of Ancient date, or long standing or continuance, are liable to Death, Ruin, and Destruction.

Nor will the Events hereon depending be of a mean concern or consequence, or relate to one Kingdom or Country only; but be formidably eminent, and universally heard of and felt (more or less) throughout all Europe, if not further: but chiefly among those Persons, and in those Places subject to the second Quadrangle. — So that I may justly say, as once Leovittius (with a little variation) upon a like Occasion. viz.

O Reges, Principes, & Magnates sub Sydera Aquarii Tauri, Leonis, & Scorpionis Nati: Item Provincie, Regiones, ac Civitates secundo Quadrangulo subiecte, vobis plurima & gravissima mala portendi videntur, vobis inq. an extrema calamitates imminebunt!

I might observe unto you what this Eclipse, as celebrated in the Airy Triplicity signifies: and also acquaint you with the sundry dismal misfortunes that formerly have attended the World after Eclipses, wherein the envious Planet Saturn hath had the peculiar Dominion, as here: but my limits are narrow, and my room is appointed for other matters, (to the World all out as considerable) and therefore am forced to omit them,

2. Something touching the late Amazing Comet.

In my last years Ephemeris, I gave you an account of the late great and dreadful Comet, (which was visible almost to all the World), from Paris, and also another from Jamaica. And in this place I shall present you with a most curious and exact Diary thereof, as it was most carefully observed from the 25th, of November 1680. to the 9th, of February following, in the Barbados Island, by the ingenious Mathematician, Mr. William Withrington, and communicated to me by my worthy friend Dr. R. Lawford, since deceased. —

This

Astrological Observations. 1683.

This is the very best Account of this great Comets motion, and much larger than any yet communicated to the World. I have heard of some that have pretended their sight of this Comet in Octob. 1680. And the learned Elias Asimole, Esq; told me, He had receiv'd a Letter from an ingenious hand, to that very purpose. It's first appearance is uncertain, and that so much, that we dare not presume to fix upon any Lunation preceding it, for the real one, whereon to build our Astrological Judgments. We shall therefore consider it according to its Matutine and Vesperine Apparitions.

This Comet appeared in the East, in the *morning*s; as this Figure declares.

As this great Comet arose in the *morning*s before the Sun. the Cœlestial Virgin ascended the Horoscope; and the two haughty haughty Malignants among the Stars, were influencing the Austral and Oriental parts of Heaven. Saturn in Cancer, near the Medium Celi, and Mars in Virgo, in the twelfth Angle. As if the greatest Actions and Accidents depending hereon, were to fall out in the East and South parts of the World. But in this matter let us hear the learned Ptolemy, lib. 2. cap. 8. Q. 4.

Observandi sunt & Cometae, &c.—In the consideration of general Events, Comets are especially to be minded, whether they appear with Eclipses, or at any other time, or of what form and name soever they be. For they produce effects like ♂ and ♀; as Wars, Strifes, turbulent motions, and such other events as usually follow these. But unto what places they threaten their effects, these parts of the Zodiack in which they are first collected, and blaze, and also the tendency of their rayes or streams, do denote. But by the face or shape of that blazing substance, the kind or effect, and the matter into which it will change, shall be known. The duration of the flame shall inform us of the intention, so remission of the events. The Comets Posture to the Sun, the beginning of its Operation. For when they are Matutine, and burn long, they argue swifter events; but being Vespertine, slower.

In which words our Author seems to insinuate Three things properly to be consider'd in the Judgments to be pass'd upon Comets; viz. the Quality, Place, and Time of their Effects.

I. For the Quality or Nature of this eminent Comet, And herein I should consider the Place of its first appearance: but that I told you before, was impossible to be known. But a Saturnine Comet it was, as common vision thereof most fully assured us; and no question but it will be attended with Saturnine events. Color enim significat naturam Planetæ Dominantis. The colour of the Comet being Saturnine, declares it to be a Saturnine Comet. It was a very great Comet; and therefore very proper to be attributed to the greatest of Planets, viz. h.
—Quo major est stella, eo est efficacior. By how much the more great any Star or Comet is, by so much the more eminent are his Effects to be expected.

This Comet arose by Longitude with Arcturus; it passed by many any eminent Constellations, was very swift in motion, until towards its disappearing. Its effects therefore must be most eminent, prodigious and velocitious. It passed through all ♈, ♎, ♊, ♋, ♌, ♍, ♏, ♐, and above half of ♑ almost 8 Signs, signifying as if two thirds of the whole world should be concerned in its effects.

As it passed through ♈, it portended many Thefts & Robberies, perversion of justice among men, the death of great persons, publick Executions, great slaughters & vulnerations, Plots and Treacheries, &c impetuous Winds, horrible Earthquakes, &c.

As it journied through ♎ it boded great Wars & Contentions, madness of the Multitude, Rebellion against Superiors, Animosities among Kings & Princes, scarcity of grain & waters, many dangers to teeming women, & diseases in Secretis, &c.

Its passing through ♊ (the dignities of ♊ imports many misfortunes to befall the most learned powerful & worthy among men viz. great Lords and Noblemen, Bishops, Clergy-men & Civilians, as Contumelies, Reproaches, Depositions, Captivities, &c.

As it transited ♋, it presaged great Fornications & Adulteries, and much War and Blood-shed by reason thereof among great Persons, Nobles, &c and wonderful calamities and misfortunes unto all sorts of people The death or degradation of Princes, either by Poyson, or other violent ways or means (saith Funckine) contempt of Religion and religious men; terrible Snows, Hails, Frosts, tedious bitter Winters, &c. Plague, Famine and vulgar Fury.

By its perambulation through ♌ (the place where the late solar Eclips happens), it portended durable Wars, and terrible slaughters among men, and sundry other cruelties and crosses, Some Epidemical and grievous Diseases, dark & obscure Air, great Winds, Thunder and Lightning, and thence a Plague or Pest so great and universal, that it will sweep away a multitude of people of all sorts, as well of the greater as the baser sort.

From its passage through ♏, it prenotes war & strife among those that are most neerly ally'd to each other, as Domestick Relations, and such as are linked together by Sanguinity; and that that many shall commit violence upon themselves, many miseries to the Vulgar, great troubles in and about Religion, a questioning of former Faith and Traditions; many Prodigies in the Earth and Air, destruction of Fishes, notable Shipwracks, differences between some great Potentates, & mutinies, rebellions, slaughters in their chiefest Towns & Cities, quod Deus averia

As it journeyed through γ , it denounces much detriment to the greatest and richest of men, & sharp sorrow to the Vulgar Wars and effusion of Blood, the Catastrophe of some famous Prince or Princess, amusing the multitude where it shall happen, great droughts and diseases in the head & eyes, a Murrain among Cattel, a dejection or deprivation of Great and Noblemen, and an advancement of the most vile and base.

As it pass'd one half of δ , it imports the death of some great and famous Prince, Rebellion & Captivity among the Vulgar, detriment to great cattel, as the horse, ox, cow; terrible Winds and Earthquakes; diseases arising from corruption of blood, as Scabs, Itch, Scorbute, &c. destruction of the fruits of the earth. —And thus much for the Nature & Quality of this Comets effects.

II. Having spoken briefly of the Quality and Nature of this Comets significations, we enquire in the next place, where, or in what Countreys, Cities, &c. those effects will principally fall? And for the understanding of this, we are to consider Two things; (1.) The inclination or tendency of this Comets stream or tail. For what Regions, Kingdoms or Countreys that did point unto, or respect, the same will be more or less injured by the effects thereof. This Comet, when it rose in the East in the mornings, pointed to the South-West parts of the world; and when it arose in the evenings in the West, its tail or blaze pointed toward the North-East parts of the world. So that in a manner the whole Globe of this contending earth is like to be made sensible of its effects. But (2.) The places more principally designed to share in its effects, are those which Astrologers find subject to the signs through which it moved, viz. π , μ , λ , ν , ζ , η , θ , ι , κ , γ , and a great part of δ And they are, — Austria, Alsatia, Levonnia, Sabandia, Delphinale, Thascia, Caspia, Thebais, Norway, Bavaria, Comagema, Cappodocia, Idumea, share in the effects of this great and terrible Comet,

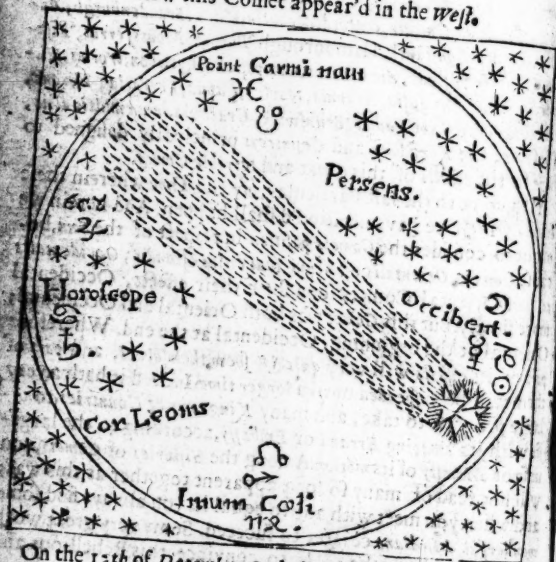

III I come to the last Particular, viz the Time wherein these events which we have mention'd shall happen. And herein we ought to consider the Comets position in respect of the Sun, because Cometa Orientalis effectum suum citius ostendit; Occidentalis tardius. Oriental Comets soon shew their effects, Occidental more slowly. But this Comet was both Oriental and Occidental; Oriental at the beginning, Occidental at the end. Wherefore part of its effects will very quickly shew themselves, and part of them will be suspended until a longer time. Indeed it hath a very large progress to take, and many Kingdoms & Countries to visit with its amazing Errand or Embassy, according to the largeness or Majesty of its motion. Among the Histories of Comets, you will not read of many so long apparent together as this was; and when you meet with any to equal it, you always find some wonderful Mundane changes to succeed. Some very great work God is doing upon the earth, to convince this Rebellious and Atheistical Age of his Power.

Diuturni

Astrological Observations, 1683.

Diuturni Cometa, &c. Comets that continue a great while saith Origanus, import the magnitude and duration of their effects and a steadfast condition in the afflictions and sorrows they denounce. This Comet continued about eighty five days, or near three solar months: and 'tis more than probable, that its effects may continue more or less, eighty five years, from the time of its first appearing. But I dare not presume to affirm, that it shall be exactly so. For who knows the secret Decrees of the Almighty? Or what measure of time he (who hath all time and seasons in his hand) hath appointed for the effects of such Phænomena wherein to shew themselves?

How this Comet appear'd in the west.

On the 12th of Decemb 1680 being Sunday, at 5 P.M. the Comet was observed in the west most dreadful to behold, according

ing to this Figure. It was a glorious Star-light-frosty night: the Moon look'd very sherp, and somewhat of a ruddy bright colour. ♀ being then also supra terram, shone with an exceeding brightness, and cast most resulgent Rayes from her body. The Comet look'd of a very pale, obscure, leaden-colour, as if it had some iresul Errand to discharge against this sinful world. The Planet ♀, tho' above the earth, could not be seen.

Here was not only a dismal, but most ravishing sight also, at once to glut our eyes, proving unto us how the Sun, Moon and Stars praise their and our Maker; and presenting to us a type of his sure mercies, and as sure judgments both together.

This wonderful and astonishing vision seems to demonstrate, That Comets have no borrowed light, like unto that of the Planets, but rather one innate of their own and that the Rayes of this stupendous prodigy, in the same pale manner they appear'd, were projected from its own body And possibly the learned and ingenious Causinus, is not much distant from the truth, when he affirms, Comets are bodies as ancient as the world it self.

Deus Opt. Max. Pater Misericordiarum, Syderum Creator, Cœli machinæ solus Rector, Conservator, ac omnium rerum & cœlestium & terrestrium summus Dispositer, benignitate, & bonitate sua summa, cum incomparabili, incomprehensibili, & infinita misericordia, calamita, quibus nobis minatur quam proximè ex ira sua propter peccata nostra nefanda, accensa, & merito excitata, ab elementari mundo, rebusque omnibus elementatis pro voluntate sua avertere, vana, irritque reddere dignetur, ad sui gloriam, & salutem nostram. Amen.
